Sport Fishermen Ready for Season

Canadian fishermen, bored to tears after telling each other all winter about the big ones that got away, will soon be able to make a fresh start. Spring brings the opening of fishing seasons throughout Canada, and indications from inquiries from sportsmen and information from guides pouring into the offices of A. O. Seymour, general tourist agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, are that game fish are going to have a hard time of it. More people are planning early vacations to take advantage of the fishing while it is at its best. Reports from Canadian Pacific Railway hotels in the Maritimes and Quebec, the Devil's Gap and French River Bungalow Camps in Ontario, and bungalow camps and hotels in the Canadian Rockies, as well as favored fishing centres on Canadian Pacific lines indicate that sportsmen are on the move again. The number of Canadians travelling within Canada and of Americans visiting this country especially for fishing will run into many thousands. In a country the size of Canada, and with its variety of fish and conditions, opening seasons vary widely in the different provinces, a fact shown in fishing booklets obtainable from all Canadian Pacific Railway agents.

Coleman Club Out For Record This Season

The football season will get away to a good start on Saturday when the local Rangers will be hosts to the visiting Lethbridge Harlequins, known last season as Supinas.

The local club for the past two years has had an unenviable record, their wins being few and far between. Last year they scored an upset to everyone, except themselves, in the Fernie tournament to win first money which was their only win of the season. This year they intend to get near the top of the league and stay there and to prove they really mean it, intend to win over the famous Lethbridge club, twice provincial winners and runners-up last year.

Presentation To Luke Lindoe

Mine Surveyor For Many Years Honored on Leaving International Coal Co.

The staff and officials of International Coal & Coke Co. Ltd., gathered in the Oddfellows hall on Tuesday evening for a social evening and to present Luke Lindoe with a handsome cocktail set as a tribute of their esteem and goodwill.

The presentation was made on behalf of the assembly by Harry W. Clark, sr., who recalled many years of pleasant association with Mr. Lindoe and referred to similar presentations throughout his 30 years of service with the company. Mr. George Kellock, vice-president and general manager of the company, also spoke in appropriate vein.

Taking part in the program were Mr. Goodwin, saxophone solo; songs by Ernie Hill, Bert Bond, Fred Beddington; bagpipe selections by Pipe-Major Moore; remarks by Messrs. J. J. McIntyre and E. F. Barner, while community singing was heartily joined in.

If it is advertised in The Journal it must be O.K.

THE TOWN OF COLEMAN SPRING CLEAN-UP

All residents are urged to clean up their premises between now and May 15, to remove the winter's accumulation of rubbish, remove fire hazards, and to see that chimneys and stovepipes are kept clean.

Make it a clean town, and see that your own premises are kept neat and free from garbage. The annual inspection will be made following May 15.

Clean-Up Period Extended Till May 15—All Rubbish Must be Removed.

Present on Tuesday evening were Mayor Pattinson; Councillors Allan, Antrobus, Chapman, Borrows and Hayson.

An application to erect a summer cottage at the lake by a party named Petrie was referred to the parks committee. Members expressed disapproval of allowing buildings at the lake except on ground specified by the committee, and one member expressed the opinion that terming some of the buildings summer cottages was a bluff, as they were used as dwellings the year round.

The secretary reported W. Carr had been granted an old-age pension of $20 monthly.

By-law 128 providing that the penalty be not added to 1927 town taxes passed its three readings.

The provincial government notified the council that $750 was levied against the town for Social Service Tax, which replaces the Supplementary Revenue Tax. This will not entail an increase in the mill rate, Secretary Ford stated.

The period for annual clean-up will extend till May 15, and an advertisement appears in The Journal to this effect.

Permission was granted to the football club to use the sports ground. The Corporation committee were granted the use of the truck and driver to haul wood for the bonfire on Coronation Day.

The three-months report of E. D. Battram, town auditor, was read, showing receipts less than the same period last year, and expenses somewhat less. He had been here three times since January 1st, and found the books and records in order. The report was read on motion of Allan and Hayson.

The meeting adjourned at 9 p.m.

Operetta By School Children Remarkable Demonstration of Their Histrionic Ability

"Pied Piper of Hamelin" Effects Tributes of Praise for Public School Children and Instructor.

A very delightful children's operetta was presented by Blairmore public school two nights last week. The story was that of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Before the curtain rose, Browning's poem was recited by one of the pupils. This in itself was a difficult task, but a most effective piece of work. The operetta, in three acts, included solos, duets, choruses, dancing and dialogue. Upwards of ninety children took part, and all acquitted themselves well. The "Town Crier" acting and personality made him a great success, and in several scenes he almost stole the show.

The teachers and the children are to be complimented highly on the very fine performance of this, the first children's operetta to be given in the Pass. All soloists sang naturally and prettily; no notes were strained, and the words were always easily understood. The solos of the Little Mother and the Piper, in particular, were beautifully sung. Most painstaking practice was evident in the chorus work, which was lively, yet not forced. The words were at all times wonderfully clear and distinct. The acting and dancing were cleverly done, and would have been a real accomplishment for much older performers.

It should not be forgotten that almost every costume was made by Mrs. J. B. Wilson, of Blairmore, who generously gave her time and energy to the school children. (It is no quick and easy task to make seventy-five or more costumes, particularly suits with tails, for rats, and fur-trimmed purple robes for mayor and councillors. The Piper's costume alone was a work of art.)

During intermissions, the high school orchestra played. The members were at their best under the capable direction of Mr. Boyle, and one couldn't help being pleased and impressed with the almost professional manner of their playing.

All in all, it was a musical and artistic performance which will not soon be forgotten. From the joyous demeanor of the young actors and actresses, it is assumed that they were having at least as much fun as the audience. Congratulations and appreciation are expressed to the teachers and pupils, and especially to thank the man who made it all possible, the man who was behind it, giving advice and help in so unostentatious a manner as to be almost unnoticed, the Pass supervisor of music, Mr. Moffatt. May he long continue to inspire teachers and children with the desire to produce work such as this.

Perhaps next year, parents of Coleman may see their children in an operetta equally good.—B.G.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY

of St. Paul's United church will hold their annual supper in the club room on Monday, May 3, from 5 to 7 p.m. Keep the date in mind. Admission 50c, and you will certainly enjoy a meal away from home.

St. Paul's Anniversary

Special Services and Annual Dinner Will Mark 31st Anniversary of United Church.

The 31st anniversary services commemorating the opening of the United church will be held on Sunday, May 2nd. That any institution in the community should reach that milestone should be a matter of general interest.

The influence and worth of the church through its membership and organizations is far greater than appears on the surface. The work of the church does not always meet with the appreciation and approval even of those it serves.

The records and registers of the congregation for more than a generation are important documents in the history of the town. If the lists of baptisms, marriages and deaths could be published, a perfect deluge of memories and recollections would be released.

If the multitude of boys and girls that have passed through its Sunday school classes could be brought together, this too would be a revelation and perhaps a surprising one.

The services will be conducted by Rev. J. M. Pritchard, M.A., of Southminster church, Lethbridge. He will preach at both services. In the morning Mrs. Richard Upton, of Bellevue, will be the soloist. Miss Gwen Brown will sing in the evening.

Large congregations are expected and it may be advisable to be early. An anniversary gift is being asked for. The Ladies' Aid will serve the usual dinner on Monday evening. This occasion is commended to the whole constituency of the church in Coleman, that what is in its own right a notable occasion may be worthily observed.

Breaking Their Backs

More than startling are the figures of expenditures being made for war and defence by the nations of the world recently revealed in tabulated form as an annex to an American cartoon captioned "Just Pocket Money".

The irony of the heading is immediately realized when the figures are scanned and analyzed for they show a progressively increasing expenditure by the combined nations of the world from 1933 onward when the total martial bill was $3,992,000,000 as compared with $10,730,700,000 for last year and an estimate of least $12,000,000,000 for the current year.

Roughly the taxpayers of the world are being asked to increase their contributions to the war god by about two billions of dollars every year. The governments of the countries involved are stepping it up every year by about that amount and have been doing so since 1933.

Now such figures as ten or twelve billions of dollars may not convey very much to the comprehension of the average man on the street in the city or the farmer in the country, but a little reflection on the effect of this enormous drain on the resources of the countries involved, present and future, must surely lead to wonderment at the ability of the people to stand such an enormous drain and speculation as to the length of time that must lapse before financial ruin and chaos will overtake the spenders.

A little reflection on the subject must also lead to the conviction that something must be done to avert the threatened catastrophe, whether through a rejuvenated League of Nations or by some other agency, and that nothing is likely to be done except through the leadership of the democratic group of nations.

The present-day situation has been brought about by the aggressiveness of some of the nations who are determined to win back what they lost in the war of 1914-18, by fear on the part of other nations who are afraid of what may happen to them as a result of the aggressiveness on the part of their neighbors and by the dictates of prudence and the force of necessity on the part of the remaining nations who see that unless they are armed, purely as a defensive measure, they may become an easy prey in the event of the outbreak of a major conflict despite all desires to remain neutral and pursue the paths of peace.

It is this latter group of nations—the countries which still remain converts to the democratic form of government—represented most powerfully by Great Britain and the United States, which must lead the way in the search for some method to halt this heading rush towards bankruptcy.

There are some writers who have advanced the theory that the countries espousing the cause of democracy should stand aside and let the protagonists of fascism and communism fight it out among themselves and destroy one another if they want to do it, but this position is untenable in practice for several reasons.

In the first place it is generally agreed by most authorities that democratic neutrality would mean in the event of a major conflict a major conflagration between member-nations of the other groups. It is asserted that, willy-nilly, they would be dragged into the conflict, if not in the early stages at any rate before a conclusion was reached; that circumstances, political or economic, or both, would drag them in against their will.

Moreover, it should be pointed out, despite efforts of some of the countries to make themselves self-contained and self-supporting in the decade, there is so much inter-dependence in these days of widening exchange and increasing rapidity of communications that no groups of important countries could wage warfare without inflicting serious and perhaps irreparable damage on innocent bystanders.

The very fact that Great Britain and the United States have found it necessary to compete in the armaments race is indicative of their recognition of the truth of the foregoing statement.

"What is needed is a new spirit of kinship, a reunion of men and all our peoples of common breed in common purpose" recently said Sir Henry Page Croft at a meeting in Wales urging greater unity between the component parts of the British Empire as a means towards "collective security", when he launched what he called an Empire Unity campaign.

No doubt what Sir Henry Page Croft had to propose on that occasion would serve a useful purpose but the plan might be extended to provide for a common council of all the democratic countries which might be sufficiently powerful to exercise a restraining influence on the activities of those nations which are setting the pace in the armaments race in detriment not only to their own nationals but to those of the democratic countries.

Has Isolated Vitamin A In Pure Form

Pale yellow needle-shaped crystals of pure vitamin A, 4,000 times more potent than cod liver oil, were shown to the American Chemical Society at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, in visual proof of success of the medical quest— isolation of vitamin A, the third to be obtained in pure form.

Vitamin B, for nerves, and vitamin C, for scurvy, had previously been isolated. A is the disease-producing vitamin, which is essential for growth and is important to eyesight.

The new crystals were reported about 1,000,000 units stronger than previously obtained vitamin A concentrates. The vitamin unit is an international standard of measurement. The crystals were rated at 3,000,000 units per gram as compared with about 2,000,000 units for other standard vitamin A concentrates.

A Real Magician

General Motors Vice-President Cooks Eggs On Ice

Charles F. Kettering, General Motors vice-president in charge of research, showed 1,000 persons in the General Motors Auditorium in Detroit how to fry an egg atop a cake of ice.

The egg was placed in a shiny frying pan. Underneath the frying pan was a folded newspaper, which had been placed on the ice, and underneath the ice was a flat coil of wire cold during the demonstration.

"Very simple," said Kettering, as he explained that the coil was energized by an electric current with a frequency of 1,600 alternations a second.

The demonstration was part of the first showing of General Motors' new road show, "Preview of Progress," which is to be exhibited throughout the United States this year.

Air Mail Service

Department Working Towards Inauguration On July 1st

Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transport, stated he believed mail service on the trans-Canada airways would start July 1.

"We are still working towards the July 1 opening," he said. "I feel personally, that on that date mail service, at least, will start, with passenger service opening as soon thereafter as possible."

He said landing fields along the Montreal-Vancouver route were in good shape. The schedule was tentatively set at 16 hours between Montreal and Vancouver.

Lockheed-Electra planes, carrying 10 passengers, and the superspeed Lockheed planes, carrying 14 passengers and possibly a hostess, would be used.

Name Travelled Far

Cecil Ripley of Amherst, Nova Scotia, marked his name on a piece of hardwood a year ago and forgot all about it. The other day he had a letter from Charles Wilson, a chairman in Hoxton, England, who came across the address and wrote to him.

The Human Factor

May Be Greatest Handicap In Connection With Air Route

The "human factor" might be the greatest handicap in speedy completion of the trans-Canada air route, J. A. Wilson, Dominion controller of civil aviation, told the Toronto board of trade.

Canadian pilots had been deprived of the opportunity for night flying since abandonment of the earlier trans-Canada service made up of inter-city "hops," Mr. Wilson said. While he believed "we undoubtedly can catch up, the training and educating of pilots flying blind at night on radio beams was a 'personal factor' and infinitely more difficult to surmount" than technical and physical problems.

One of the greatest handicaps in the establishment of the route in Wilson's opinion was, he said, "our overgrown railway system." Earlier attempts were abandoned, he said, to develop faster transportation, so the pioneer flyers turned to the north where they developed a fine air service.

A Young Giant

Nineteen-Year-Old Youth Is Eight Feet Nine Inches In Height

Robert Wadlow, 19, the eight-foot nine inches, almost quarter-ton boy of Alton, Ill., was decided to be a normal individual in many respects, differing from other people mainly in the overactivity of his pituitary gland.

In the first of a group of clinics presented for members of the American College of Physicians, Dr. Louis H. Behrens, of Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where young Wadlow has been examined frequently, termed him an ideal subject for study of the growth hormone secreted by the pituitary, which in his case apparently got out of control.

Indications are that the boy will be a big man, the physician added. "We surmise that his growth may or may not reach nine feet or over."

Electrical devices now carried on handcars quickly measure strains in railroad rails.

In the Hawaiian Islands, white violets grow on stalks four feet high.

New Device Kept Secret

Radio Spy Owned By U.S. Navy To Be Tested

United States navy department officials disclosed the development of a "radio spy" by which enemy warships may be located or tracked long distances at sea.

Rear Admiral Harold G. Bowen, engineer-in-chief of the navy, first reported development of the device by the department's radio direction-finder experts to congressional appropriations committees which handle navy funds.

Bowen declined to make public details of the "radio spy", filing such information with the committees under a "confidential supplement." Navy officers, while saying the device was "secret" and could not be discussed, added that it was possible it would be given its first comprehensive test in naval maneuvers to be held in the Alaskan-Hawaiian sector in the Pacific this year.

Under the same "confidential supplement," Admiral Bowen also requested funds for the development of a system of cryptography by which the Americans can transmit signals to another vessel in the fleet which cannot be deciphered by an enemy vessel.

Valuable Letter Sold

Written By Kipling When Edward VII's Coronation Postponed

A letter describing the gloom in England when the Coronation of Edward VII. was postponed because of his sudden illness was among a group of Rudyard Kipling memorabilia which went on sale in New York.

The letter from the poet to his American mother-in-law, Mrs. H. Wolcott Balestier, of Vermont, is dated June 26, 1902, scheduled date of the Coronation for which England had prepared elaborately.

Only the day before he wrote, Kipling, who with all Englishmen of his day revered the popular Edward, had learned of the King's illness and the postponement of the ceremonies.

"The only thing I can compare on a grey scale is the way on a gigantic motor car with all the brakes suddenly applied at once . . . all flags, of course, were hauled down and all sports stopped," Kipling wrote. "The little telephone boy was blubbering and it looked as though a grey mist had been passed over the faces of all people . . . to-day the land seems stunned. . . ."

Australian Gunner Honored

High Officials Attend Funeral Of Soldier Killed In London

Gunner Arthur Percy Sullivan, V.C., Australian soldier whose sudden, accidental death has saddened London, was honored in a colorful funeral service at the Guards Chapel, Wellington Barracks.

Sullivan, a member of the Australian military contingent in London for the coronation, was killed by a cyclist on Birdcage Walk, outside Wellington Barracks where the Aussies were staying.

An immense turnout of soldiers and civilians, including the Australian high commissioner, Stanley Bruce, and high official representatives of many governments, attended the funeral.

Sullivan, manager of a branch of the Australian Bank at Manley, New South Wales, is survived by a widow and four children. He won the V.C.—the Empire's highest award for valor—in 1919 when he rescued four comrades from a northern Russian swamp under heavy fire.

Look And Listen

Drivers Should Exercise More Precaution At Railway Crossings

It is simply impossible in a young country like Canada, with more than 40,000 miles of railway, to eliminate all grade crossings. The best that can be done is by plain signal warnings to protect the public. At the present time the most dangerous of these crossings are either being abolished entirely or given ample protection. That appears to be as far as Canada can go at the present time in view of the enormous expense entailed in the construction of overhead bridges and subways. The lesson is that the travelling public must give heed and protect itself in the meantime.

Increase In Pensions

Total Number Disability And Dependent Pensions Given As $7,975

Total number of disability and dependent pensions in force at the end of the last fiscal year, March 31, was $7,975, an increase of $75 over the figure on the same date in 1936. Departmental officials disclosed. The amount of money involved was $40,783,023 per annum, or a drop of $71,451, notwithstanding the increase in numbers of pensioners.

Approximately 8,450 pensions were paid to Canadians or their dependents resident in the United Kingdom, while about 8,560 was paid to disability pensioners or dependents in foreign countries. In round figures 81,000 pensions were being paid in Canada, of which $7,824, representing $23,857,407, were disability pensions and the remainder, representing $7,725,998, dependent pensions.

Proper Fare For Reducers

Tests Show Coffee And Doughnuts Do Not Increase Weight

Take the word of Dr. Howard J. Crum, coffee and doughnuts is proper fare for seekers of slenderness. Years of experimenting with reducing diets have proved the time-honored combination to be "most satisfactory," he told the Southern Dietitians' Association at New Orleans.

Dr. Crum, plastic surgeon and beauty consultant of New York City, conceded a majority opinion of the diet-conscious population would ban coffee and doughnuts from the table as producers of weight but, he added, "this is not so."

Exhibition Of Needlecraft

Work Of Queen Mary Likely To Be Shown

World-famous women will be asked to contribute their own handwork to an international exhibition of modern tapestries which it is proposed to hold in Sydney, New South Wales, early next year, as part of Australia's 150th anniversary celebration.

Among them will be Queen Mary, who is a skilled weaver of tapestry pictures, and to whom a cablegram has been sent requesting her to lend a sample of her work, to be a feature at the exhibition. Another who has been asked to lend her tapestry for display, was made by Lady Gwennie, wife of the Governor-General of Australia.

The suggestion for the exhibition, and that noted persons should be asked to send their tapestries for display, was made by Lady Gwennie, wife of the Governor-General of Australia.

Australian tapestry weavers will be invited to join in interdistrict competition, and the winning pieces will be included in the display.

Dies During World Cruise

Col. J. Obad Smith Was Former Officer Of Immigration Department

Lieut.-Col. J. Obad Smith, 73, former chief officer of the Canadian government immigration department in England, died in Yokohama, Japan, according to cable advice to Canadian Pacific Steamships at Montreal. Col. Smith was on a world cruise on the Empress of Britain.

A native of Birmingham, Eng., Col. Smith came to Canada after graduation from Liverpool college. He was called to the bar of Manitoba in 1891 and served with the Manitoba government until 1901 when he became Dominion immigration commissioner for western Canada.

Col. Smith retired from the service in 1924 and was appointed manager of the Hudson's Bay Company's Overseas Settlement Limited. He resided in Richmond, Surrey. He leaves his widow, daughter of the late Harry Burton Rose of Winnipeg, and two daughters.

Declares Canada Is On Friendly Terms With All Nations

Quebec. — Pleased he could leave home under happier circumstances than seemed possible earlier in the week, Prime Minister Mackenzie King sailed from here Sunday declaring Canada was on the friendly terms with every nation in the world and would enter the imperial conference without a single grievance.

Settlement of the Oshawa strike, reached the day before he left Ottawa, had been a source of gratification to himself and his colleagues, the prime minister said, removing the one anxiety that had overshadowed preparations for the journey to London.

Accompanied by Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe, Finance Minister C. A. Dunning, Defence Minister Ian MacKenzie and Hon. T. A. Cresser, minister of mines and resources, Mr. King embarked aboard the Empress of Australia.

While he would not comment upon the probable stand to be taken by Canada on the imperial conference agenda Mr. King, in a statement issued just before sailing, declared the meeting in London "has, in these troubled times, a special significance for the world as a whole." He added "it serves to indicate the effectiveness of reason and friendly co-operation as an alternative to force in the conduct of affairs between nations."

Foreign policy and constitutional relations in general will be the main concern of the prime minister and his associates. Defence Minister MacKenzie was accompanied by the heads of the army, navy and air branches of his department in anticipation of a full discussion on empire defence. Mr. Dunning will enter the official discussions as the one who must consider ways and means of raising money for any projects that may be under consideration, and will also carry on conversations with empire officials on the subject of trade although this is not on the agenda.

Migration within the empire is down on the agenda and has been a matter considerably to the fore in recent months.

No Delegation From Italy

London. — Italy's ambassador to Great Britain, Count Dino Grandi, will be her sole representative at the coronation, it was learned here. Restriction of the Italian part in the ceremonies was seen here as due to the strained relations between Rome and London following British failure to recognize the Italian conquest of Ethiopia.

Place Order For Railroad Coaches

Montreal. Orders for 50 air-conditioned coaches for the Canadian National Railways have been placed with the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, it was announced. Some of the cars will be in service this summer.

Dominion and Provincial Relations Will Be Reviewed

Ottawa. — Cabinet council put the finishing touches on terms of reference for the royal commission on economic relations between the Dominion and the provinces but its details will not be made public until the personnel of the commission has been selected. This may take place while he is in London attending the imperial conference, Prime Minister Mackenzie King stated after a five-hour meeting of the government.

Consideration was also given the situation in British Columbia where activities of the Doukhobors recently caused Premier Pattullo to make representations to the federal government. Mr. King here said he would advise Mr. Pattullo the government here would co-operate in carrying on an investigation if such were deemed necessary by the provincial authorities.

Naming of acting-ministers and consideration of the departmental matters also occupied the cabinet. It was understood some progress was made with relief agreements being negotiated with the provinces. Details were not made public.

Hon. Haoul Dandurand, government leader in the senate, minister without portfolio and senior ranking cabinet minister to be left in Ottawa when the delegation sails, will be acting-prime minister.

U.S. Sees Treasury Deficit

Possibility Of New Taxation For Next Session

Washington. President Roosevelt asked the United States congress for $1,500,000,000 for next year's relief burden in a message projecting the possibility of new taxes next session. His special message on relief needs during the 12 months beginning July 1 forecasted a deficit of $2,577,000,000 or $309,000,000 over his January estimate.

A deficit in the 1938 fiscal period ending June 30, 1938, of $418,000,000, "I propose to use every means at my command to eliminate this deficit during the coming fiscal year," Mr. Roosevelt said.

On the basis of the president's revised estimates, the public debt would climb close to the $35,500,000,000 mark by June 30.

Mr. Roosevelt said it was apparent there is an "immediate need for a careful survey of the present tax structure."

He regarded it as "extremely important that we should achieve a balance of actual income and outgo for the fiscal year 1938, and I appeal to you to join me in a determined effort to bring about that result."

Pool President Dies

L. C. Brouillette Succumbs To Illness At Vancouver

Vancouver. The career of a prominent western grain man, who rose from operator of a northern Saskatchewan wheat farm to the presidency of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, was ended here April 22, with the death of L. C. Brouillette. He was 51 years old.

Released from cancer, Mr. Brouillette came here for treatment and entered hospital April 15. His condition steadily became worse. However, complications following an attack of flu was given as the cause of his death.

Permits Presented

Firm In U.S. Receives Flying Rights For Ocean Air Service

Washington. — Pan-American Airways received permits from Great Britain, Canada and the Irish Free State for trans-Atlantic flying rights into those countries.

The permits were presented to representatives of Pan-American in a ceremony in the office of Daniel Roper, United States secretary of commerce, who declared: "This is the first real effort for the establishment of scheduled trans-Atlantic air service."

"Opportunities for participating in this expansion are open to all interested transport companies," he said.

Peter Veregin Sentenced

Doukhobor Leader Convicted On Charge Of Vagrancy

Castlegar, B.C. — Peter Veregin, spiritual leader of some 20,000 Doukhobors in Canada, was convicted on charges of vagrancy and driving to the common danger in police court here. He was sentenced to three months hard labor and fines totalling $75.15 by Stipendiary Magistrate R. A. D. West who heard the double case.

The magistrate ordered the three months to be served in the provincial jail at Nelson, 20 miles east of this West Kootenay community. On the vagrancy conviction Magistrate West imposed the jail term and a fine of $50 and on the second conviction a fine of $15 and $10.15 court costs or 14 days in jail in lieu of payment.

Both charges were laid following an incident on the highway between here and Nelson involving Veregin, his Doukhobor driver, John Konkin, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Erickson, of nearby Roseland, B.C.

Testifying for the crown Erickson said Veregin's car had passed him several times on the highway, stopping in the middle of the road and forcing Erickson to bring his own machine to sudden stops.

Erickson testified one time Veregin passed him the latter's car was travelling about 60 miles an hour.

Released From Profession

Ontario Doctor's Name Has Been Removed From List

Toronto. — Dr. Robert Noble, registrar of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, stated Dr. John S. Hett of Kitchener "has been released from the College because he claims he has a specific cure for cancer."

The College council "will do anything in its power to offer him facilities to substantiate his claim," Dr. Noble said.

Dr. Hett announced he was notified his name was removed from the list of practising physicians in Ontario after he appeared before the College council, and said he denied charges he claimed to possess a specific cure for cancer and that he guaranteed certain patients with a cure.

Dr. Hett said there was only one reason for cancellation of his license as a practising physician after 40 years in cancer research.

"That reason is that I refused to reveal the nature of the serum because I did not consider the time opportune," he said.

Making History

Queen Mary To Be First In History To See Her Son Crowned

London. — Queen Mary with her sister-in-law, Queen Maud of Norway, will have a special carriage and an escort of cavalry to Westminster Abbey on the morning of the coronation. The two queens will form separate processions with their attendants as they take their seats in the abbey.

She will be the first queen mother in British history to watch her son being consecrated to the country's service. Queen Alexandra did not attend the coronation of King George V.

Given Scholarship

New York. — A graduate residence scholarship in chemistry has been awarded to William A. Jones, Regina, 1932 arts graduate from the University of Saskatchewan, it was announced in a list of 164 winners of fellowships and scholarships for 1937-38 at Columbia University, New York.

CAROL-NICHOLAS QUARREL MAY BE FAR-REACHING

The recent episode in the King Carol-Nicholas quarrel may lead to national repercussions unless the Roumanian King allows his brother to live peacefully in Bucharest with his Commoner wife. Latest reports state that the Iron Guards will attempt to overthrow the Government if Carol forces his brother into exile. Above are pictures of King Carol (left) and Prince Nicholas (right).

SINGS AT CORONATION

Mr. Frederick Rannall, who sang as "Macbeth" in the Beggar's Opera 1,480 times, has been invited to join the choir at the Coronation. As a chorboy he sang at the Jubilee Services for Queen Victoria in 1887 and 1897.

Sail At Own Risk

Attitude Of Government Towards British Ships Entering Spanish Waters

London. — The government's attitude that British merchantships enter Spanish territorial waters at their own risk was again outlined by Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty, in the House of Commons.

He stated, however, the government did not recognize the right of an insurgent warship outside the three-mile limit to fire at a British ship inside that limit. The insurgent ship in such circumstances could do nothing more than seize the freighter.

Further, insurgents would be held responsible for any claims for damages.

May Enter Politics

Canadian Legion Would Place Problems Of Veterans Before Public

Calgary. — Recommendation the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, enter politics actively as a national association with the object of placing before the public the conditions of war veterans will be made at the Alberta convention, at Lethbridge, next June.

The recommendation will be sponsored by the Calgary branch of the Imperial division of the legion, James Simmons, president, announced.

It is not the intention of the legion, it was explained, to organize a new political party. It would merely carry on an educational campaign to bring problems of the ex-servicemen before all Canadians.

Would Pay War Debts

Proposal Made That Britain Should Float Loan For This Purpose

London. — Rupert De La Bere, Conservative member of the House of Commons, proposed that Britain should settle her Great War debt to the United States by floating a loan in the United States.

De La Bere gave formal notice he would question the chancellor of the exchequer in the House of Commons, asking "if he was prepared to consider endeavoring to effect an arrangement that Britain should settle her war debt to the United States of America on the basis of a 50-year loan arranged in the United States, having due regard to Britain's capacity to pay."

General Motors Strike Formally Ended When Agreement Is Signed

Massacre Officers

Insurgent Infantrymen Desert In Body And Join Government Forces

Andujar, Spain. — An entire company of 175 insurgent infantrymen massacred their officers and deserted in a body to the government as insurgent morale cracked under the government offensive in Cordoba province.

With four columns closing in on the valuable insurgent-held mining district around Penarroya and threatening to envelop Cordoba City, disorganization and demoralization developed within the enemy ranks.

The officers killed were all commissioned. Sergeants and corporals cast in their lot with the privates. The deserters presented themselves at the government lines in full war kits with reserve ammunition and military supplies.

One of the government columns was reported to have swept through the village of Belmez, 10 miles south of Penarroya, and to have taken up positions five miles west of the village.

Finland Investigating Plot

Englishman Said To Have Carried Arms There For Spain

Helsingfors. The Finnish government ordered an investigation of charges made by the Marquess of Dorsington that he had been made the storehouse of $10,000,000 worth of munitions which two Englishmen plotted to run to Spain.

The war ministry denied Finland had said arms to Spain.

Writing in the London Sunday Dispatch Lord Dorsington said the two Englishmen, Hon. Victor Hervey, son of Lord Hervey, and John Christopher Lonsdale, now in Paris, had planned to make a profit of $250,000 each from the deal.

Lord Dorsington said he had trailed the men from London to Finland and there had uncovered documents proving the plot. He said the plan was to store arms, collected in various places, in Finland for eventual shipment to Spain.

Inspects Mounted Police

Contingent En Route To The Coronation Reviewed By Major-General MacBrien

Montreal. — The Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment of 35 members en route to England for the coronation was inspected by Major-General Sir James H. MacBrien, commissioner.

Attired in full dress uniform and mounted on horses from Regina which will go with them overseas, the officers staged a parade on the ground of the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars in command of Deputy Commissioner S. T. Wood of Ottawa.

European Nations Favor Conference To Adjust Trade Barriers

London. — Great Britain has joined the lengthening list of European nations who would like a world conference to adjust economic barriers to trade.

The government indicated, too, its hopes for a Great War Debt Conference with the United States. Debate in the House of Commons produced a reiteration of willingness to pay when the time is ripe.

Prime Minister Baldwin told the house the government was ready to enter a world "mutual understanding" conference such as Reichsfuehrer Hitler suggested that President Roosevelt might call.

Britain would enter, however, only if prior investigation showed the conference was likely to succeed and only if there were sufficient advance preparation.

Baldwin thus placed Britain alongside France, Italy, Austria, Russia, Belgium, Germany and the Scandinavian nations, all of which declare they will enter such a conference. Prime Minister Van Zeeland of Belgium, who will see President Roosevelt in June, is seeking, at the behest of Britain and France—a solution to world trade barriers which Toronto. — The 18-day General Motors strike at Oshawa was formally ended here when company and employees' representatives signed an agreement in the office of Premier Hepburn.

The agreement is made concurrent with the agreement between General Motors Corporation in the United States and the United Automobile Workers of America, dated Feb. 11, 1937, which runs indefinitely or may be modified or terminated after Aug. 11.

Drafted at a conference in the premier's office and ratified by a union mass meeting in Oshawa, the agreement was signed by two General Motors' executives and three members of the union.

General satisfaction with the settlement was expressed by everyone connected with it in a flurry of statements following the signing. Premier Hepburn declared "the true Canadian spirit asserted itself in the final analysis."

"The attention of the people of the North American continent, where we obviously are going through an economic transition period without parallel, was focussed on the Oshawa situation and the fact we have settled pretensions and important issues without any disorder, whatever serves as a challenge to those who have been less fortunate," said the premier.

Washington. — Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, said the terms of the Oshawa, Ont. General Motors strike settlement were "very satisfactory to the U.A.W. insofar as recognition was concerned."

"Millard (C. H. Millard, local union official) was and is the representative of the international union and J. L. Cohen (who headed a strikers' negotiating committee) was and is the lawyer for the international union," Martin said.

"It is perfectly all right with us if General Motors wants to use its imagination that it is not dealing with us."

"What we are anxious to get in all cases is recognition in effect and not in so many words."

Paris World's Fair

U.S. Planes To Be Used To Fly Passengers From London To Paris

Le Havre, France. — Rumors of wholesale shipment of United States planes destined for use in Spain were squelched here with disclosure the craft will be used to fly passengers from London to the Paris world fair. A newspaper report said five such planes were seized by police at Le Bourget field, near Paris.

Nineteen planes, dismantled and crated before they were shipped from New York, have been unloaded here. Nine have been reassembled and are making test flights. The ships will be operated by a French firm which has obtained all necessary authorization.

are regarded as obstacles to lasting peace and disarmament.

Roosevelt has been mentioned frequently of late as one to take the lead.

(In Washington, the president said foreign rumors he was considering an international economic and arms limitation conference were an old story.)

Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, refused to be drawn into lengthy discussion of war debts.

"As stated in the note addressed to the United States, Dec. 1936," Chamberlain said, "His Majesty's government would be ready to reopen discussions on the question of settlement of the British war debt whenever circumstances are such as to warrant the hope that a satisfactory result might be reached."

"I am not prepared to express an opinion at the present time with regard to the methods of settlement."

A. V. Alexander, Labor, former first lord of the admiralty, attacked Chamberlain's lack of provision for solving the war debts problem. His statement led leading New York businessmen had told him they resented the cold, callous way in which the debt question had been treated.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

THE WRITER of this column is taking a week off, not on holidays, but from trying to fill this space. There are times when one finds the open-air and communing with Nature preferable to writing a column, particularly when it is a case of trying to make much ado about nothing. For there is little of an exciting nature to write on this week. A certain amount of ballyhoo might be written which means very little, and now that neither the Federal or provincial governments are in session, there is little above ordinary interest in the political field. So, dear readers, we ask your kind indulgence for this lapse of duty.

MIGHT we remind those who would like to help the Coronation celebration fund that the list is still open. This week we spent some time in the thankless task of collecting, and every time we embark on similar tasks we vow it will be the last. However, the objective is in sight, and the various fraternal organizations have in most cases responded generously. To those who have taken part in the meetings and who are working on various committees, appreciation is expressed. We applaud the man or woman who will give time and energy in a community effort, who look for no return beyond the satisfaction of doing a job to help make others happy. In this celebration the principal idea which motivates it is to make it a day to be well remembered by the children. The complete list of donors will be published in next week's special Coronation issue, therefor all donations must be in by May 1, [Saturday].

Nicholas' Store Burglarized

Thieves Take Goods From Store
Interior and Display Windows.

Between closing time Tuesday evening at 5:30 and Wednesday morning thieves entered the Charles Nicholas store by breaking a panel of the back door, removing the bars barricading the door, and packing shirts, boots, suits, sport coats and other articles into suit cases which were also part of the stock, decamped. Even the display windows on Main street were robbed of goods, and the store proprietor is quite incensed over the fact that in spite of night police the robbery was carried on without any trace being discovered till he opened the store on Wednesday morning. A hurried check-up indicates that $400 worth of goods were stolen.

The mounted police are assisting in the circumstances surrounding the robbery. The last time this store was robbed was in 1934, and several times prior to that it was robbed. The manner in which the building was entered indicates the thieves knew of the bars across the door. The storm door, was wrenched from its fastenings, a panel of the inner door smashed in, and the inside bars removed.

Teachers Meet Trustees

On Saturday evening in the board room of the high school, the high school teachers met the trustees, present being Chairman Hope, R. M. Greenhalgh and S. Sharpe. Various matters pertaining to the use of the auditorium were discussed and it is reported adjusted in a mutually satisfactory manner. Certain responsibilities were impressed on the staff with the view of seeing that due care was exercised. Teachers present were D. Hoyle, principal; the Misses Brown, Allan, Powell and Dunlop.

Speaking of Surfaced Roads

In May 1936 the following appeared in The Journal, and as far as securing action is concerned, the result is like unto water falling from a duck's back. Present indications are that the government has so many domestic troubles to settle within its ranks that roads everywhere are being given the go-by. However, this clipping of a year ago proves interesting, if only to show how little notice is taken of this neck of the woods which in common with other parts of the province was swept off its feet by glowing promises in August 1935:

With plenty of talk about surfacing highways from the international boundary to connect the national parks in Alberta, too little thought is being given to the piece of highway that concerns in a very vital way the people of the Crows' Nest Pass. First things demand that the highway between Bellevue and Coleman should be among the first pieces to be surfaced, for it is doubtful if there is another piece of highway in the province that is furnishing so much revenue on a mileage basis. This is a 12-months highway that is used primarily for business between the towns of the Pass, and in addition all inter-provincial traffic, tourists included, is carried on this highway. Combined effort by the towns interested should have some influence with the highways department at Edmonton. More shouting about our own needs is needed to impress others with the necessity of our claim. Business comes before pleasure, and business alone demands action on this section of highway.

It will pay those intending to make improvements to homes, or painting them, to find out about the Home Improvement Plan. Consult Excel Builders' Supply Co for building, also George Graham for exterior or interior painting.

"Fashion Reflects the Coronation"

—says JANE DEE.

AS the time for the Coronation draws closer and closer, there is mounting excitement in clothes and all accessories. This spectacular event has had a tremendous influence on fashion. Not only has the Coronation influenced the color trend, but also the styles, the fabrics—even the designs in printed materials. And fashion-conscious women are choosing their outfits according to this new trend.

Why not be up-to-the-minute yourself in this connection? It's easy. Just write to me. Let me tell you all about the Coronation influences, or plan an outfit for you in Coronation colors. But remember, I require an adequate description of your coloring, weight and figure. A snapshot of yourself would be very helpful.

For a Fair Division

When the time came for the reading of the Scotch farmer's will it was found that all his property was left jointly to his two sons, Donald and Hamish. But the boys found it quite impossible to agree on the division of the estate.

They took their problem to a local professor, another Scot, and asked for his solution.

"It is simple," said the learned man. "You, Donald, will divide the property as you think fit."

Donald beamed with pleasure, and Hamish's face clouded.

"And you, Hamish," continued the old man, "will take whichever half you please."—Answers.

Slovak Concert on Saturday

Gen. Dr. Milan Rastislav Stefanik, native Slovak, prominent astronomer at the Paris Observatory, at the beginning of the world war voluntarily joined the French army as a simple soldier, and by merit rose to the rank of general. His purpose was to fight for the freedom of his nation from the sovereignty of the Habsburgs. With ex-president T. G. Masaryk and Dr. Edvard Benes, now president, he became one of the founders of the Czechoslovak Republic. Immediately after the World War he had the difficult task of negotiating for the transport of the Czechoslovak Legion from Russia across the Pacific Ocean through Canada to Czechoslovakia. As he was returning to his freed country he met a tragic end on May 4, 1919, when his aeroplane crashed just as it crossed the frontier into Czechoslovakia, (he was 39). These are the days that all Czechoslovaks are reminded of his heroism.

AS OTHERS SEE US

Even a newspaper publisher derives a little pleasure from seeing his paper quoted by others further afield. A batch of clippings from the Dominion Press Clipping Agency, Toronto, shows that The Journal was quoted as far west as St. Johns, Quebec, where The News reprinted a piece about "Coleman's Building Boom Increasing Employment." It was also quoted in at least 20 Ontario newspapers, among them the Ottawa Morning and Evening Journal. One paper waxed sarcastic over a paragraph in which The Journal editor stated "he had been pushed for time, therefore had not time to delve into various local matters of interest." This was facetiously headed by the paper which copied it: "What the World Has Lost."

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Althing (Icelandic parliament) was dissolved following a split among the government parties. General elections will be held June 20.

Part of the pay chest of a Roman legion of the early third century, 20,000 coins have been excavated at Dorchester and a selected 1,000 purchased by the British Museum.

Chancellor Hitler has eaten no butter for four years, according to an article by Otto Dietrich, Nazi press chief, in the National Zeitung of Essen.

A sub-committee of the committee of Imperial defense is to examine various processes in the production of oil from coal and other materials found in the United Kingdom.

Protestant church elections ordered by Chancellor Hitler as a means of restoring control to church members through a general synod will be postponed until autumn.

The Duke of Gloucester has taken up residence at York House, St. James's Palace, which was occupied by the Duke of Windsor when he was Prince of Wales.

Several crew members of the British steamship Welsh City, including the chief steward, were arrested at Hakodate, Japan, charged with taking photographs in the fortified zone around that port.

Congression of pension applications before quorums of the Canadian pension commission has been eliminated. Departmental officials said that only 601 applications were now before the quorums, just enough to keep them active.

The Manitoba government is urged in a resolution of the Winnipeg city council to request from the Dominion a loan of $400,000 for the city and a further $100,000 contribution for a housing scheme to relieve slum conditions and as an unemployment relief project.

Estate Taxes

Difficult To Find Logical Support For Death Duties

If John J., working hard for forty, fifty or sixty years, managed to accumulate a hundred thousand dollars, by what possible logic can it be established that part of that money—all of it, if some persons had their way—should go into the State treasury at his death?

Ah, someone says, the State provided him with an opportunity to make that money!

Humbly! The State did nothing of the kind. On the contrary, John J., instead of being in debt to the State, was the State's benefactor and helper. He paid large taxes. He gave employment. He provided business leadership. He sheltered out for private charities and public projects.

All down the line he paid "through the nose" for the privilege of living and operating his business and giving work to men and women and generally contributing to the maintenance and improvement and expansion of his life, his province and his country. Then, dying, he is expected to disgorge thousands more for public purposes.—Windsor Star.

Durable World Peace

President Roosevelt Says Maintenance Of Democracy The Best Guarantee

Continued maintenance and improvement of democracy, mutual confidence and positive co-operation form the most important guarantee of a durable world peace, President Roosevelt said in addressing the governing board of the Pan-American Union of 21 American Republics in observance of Pan-American Day.

"Democracy can not thrive in an atmosphere of international insecurity," he said. "Such insecurity breeds militarism, regimentation and the denial of freedom of speech, of peaceful assemblage and of religion. Such insecurity challenges the ideals of democracy based on the free choice of government by the people themselves."

"And as a logical development, we of the Americas believe that the continued maintenance and improvement of democracy constitute the most important guarantee of international peace."

Ancient Fossils

Discovery in South America of fossils and skeletons of hitherto unknown animals which perished in quicksand and swamps 175,000,000 years ago was announced by the Harvard museum of comparative zoology.

New Canadian Coins

Series Ranging From One Cent To One Dollar To Be Issued

A new series of Canadian coins will be minted this year, with the likelihood of getting into circulation shortly after the coronation. Finance Minister Charles Dunning announced at Ottawa. The denominations will range from one cent to one dollar.

Master dies and punches of the obverse bearing the effigy of King George VI., modelled by T. H. Paget of the royal mint, London, are expected here shortly.

The new coins will represent the collaboration of Canadian, British and French mints. Due to pressure of work on the royal mint in London, it was found necessary for the Canadian authorities to enlist co-operation of the Paris mint in the preparation of some of the dies.

The obverse of all the coins will bear King George's effigy, but the reverse will vary. A list of the reverse designs follows:

One dollar: A canoe manned by an Indian and a voyageur, an inset in the background; above, the word "Canada" with the northern lights; below, the word "dollar" and the date of the year, with a graining upon the edge.

Fifty cents: Between supporters the ensigns armorial of Canada in a shield surmounted by the royal crown. "50 cents" above and "Canada" below, with the date of the year and a graining upon the edge.

Twenty-five cents: A caribou head, "25 cents" between the antlers, and surrounded by the word "Canada" and the date of the year, with a graining upon the edge.

Ten cents: A fishing schooner under sail, "Canada" above and "10 cents" below, with the date of the year, and a graining upon the edge.

Five cents: A beaver; above "5 cents" between two maple leaves, and below, "Canada" and the date of the year, with a plain edge.

One cent: A two-leaved twig of maple, "1 cent" above, and "Canada" below, with the date of the year, and a plain edge.

Came At Right Time

Communities Should Take Advantage Of Home Improvement Plan

It has been said that one of the effects of the Home Improvement Plan which is now being promoted throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion will be to develop a "home consciousness" in the people. A combination of circumstances, however, might be mentioned as being the popularity of the motorcar and four or five years of depression, have been responsible for many causes of lack of attention to home comforts and home surroundings. It is an accepted fact that at the present time, thousands of homes in Canada require renovation and repair.

The Home Improvement Plan has come along at a time when it is most needed and those in the building and supply trades should be quick to take advantage of the opportunity. It is because employment in the construction and allied businesses has lagged that the Dominion government agreed to make easy the borrowing of money for home improvement purposes. Before the Home Improvement Plan of the building trades in the provision of employment it is believed that if these trades become active a large number of men at present on relief will be able to go to work.

Communities which give the most whole-hearted support to the Home Improvement Plan will reap the greatest benefits.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

The House Of Rothschild

Treasures Belonging To Famous Family To Be Sold

Treasures of the famous house of Rothschild, noted for its vital role in the financial history of Europe, will go under the auctioneer's hammer. SHIRING ADDS TOUCH OF BRIGHTNESS TO WIN-SOME AFTERNOON STYLE

By Anne Adams

Perhaps this charming Miss is looking at her engagement book to see the day's schedule, for anyone who wears such a charming frock as hers is sure to be one of the most popular girls in town! Anne Adams knows how flattering are full, puffed sleeves, and these of Pattern 4366 are distinguished by two rows of easy-to-do shirring. Can't you picture yourself in the demure, round neckline that tops an unusual yoke (also accented by shirring) and a simply cut bodice? Don't miss the way the skirt flares outward in latest fashion, or the choice of puffed or flared sleeves! You've wide selections of fabrics—among them are dainty lawn in a floral print, sheer voile, eyelash batiste, synthetic, or silk crepe.

Pattern 4366 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send twenty cents (20c in coin or stamps (coin preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number, and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Outstanding Worker For Many Years Dies In Montreal

Mary M. Phillips, 81, founder of the Junior Red Cross Society, died recently in Montreal.

An outstanding Red Cross worker when the first Canadian branch was formed in 1909, Miss Phillips later started spreading its ideals among children, and after the world war founded Greenfield Park Junior Red Cross Society in Montreal which became the nucleus for the organization since spread to 52 countries.

In 1931 she received an honorary citizenship—highest award of the organization, and two years ago, the King's jubilee medal. A few years ago the American Red Cross Society honored Miss Phillips at Washington for her work on behalf of the Junior Red Cross.

Notion May Be Quaint

But Mennonites Will Not Accept Help From Anyone

We keep thinking about those Amish and Mennonite farmers in Pennsylvania who travelled down to Washington to ask the Government not to help their community build a $125,000 PWA consolidated school.

They don't believe in borrowing money, or taking it as a gift, even from the Government. They have nobody on relief in their township, and they don't want anybody to go on relief. They don't want luxuries and conveniences, pleasure automobiles, radios, movies. They don't want their children riding in buses to a consolidated school—would rather have them walk to old-fashioned schools nearer their homes, because the children "will grow up to be farmers and they must have strong legs."

We keep smiling at the quaintness of such notions. Those Amishmen and Mennonites, clinging to strict observance of ancient beliefs, are depriving themselves of so many modern advantages. The more progressive sect of us call them a little backward for them, as well as amused by them. And yet, while in Washington, they seemed very cheerful. They kept smiling, and their smiles were broadcast when they started home. It suggests a faintly disturbing thought:

Maybe they think we're funny, too.—New York World-Telegram.

Making Long Trip

Famed Glacier Priest Will Seek Preventative For Tuberculosis

A 45-year-old Jesuit priest has announced plans for an expedition to the far north to seek in the blubber of seals a preventative for tuberculosis.

Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, famed "Glacier Priest", explorer, author and lecturer, said he would make his 11th northern expedition—this time to King Island in the Bering Sea. The trip will last a year and a half.

"We know," said the priest, "that the Russians took the White Plague to the Eskimos. Approximately 87 per cent. of them are afflicted. Yet, through the profuse use of seal oil, they prolonged their lives indefinitely."

"It is our hope to find the specific or the preventative by using 100 tuberculosis-afflicted Eskimos in experiments. Dr. Victor Levine, nutrition scientist at Creighton University (Omaha, Neb.), will accompany me. He already has isolated vitamin D from the seal oil. Obviously, there are other fats or oils that have a beneficial effect on lung tissue."

Fishing Ban Lifted

Sturgeon fishing for the first time in 10 years will be allowed in Northern Manitoba lakes and in one river, E. M. Stevenson, chief fishery inspector, announced. Fishermen can take 100,000 pounds from Lake Winnipeg, 20,000 pounds from Cedar Lake and 50,000 pounds from the Nelson River, near Hudson Bay.

They met after ten years.

"Has your wife kept her charming figure?"

"Kept it? She has doubted it."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 2

ABRAHAM A MAN OF FAITH

Golden text: By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place which he was to receive for an inheritance. Hebrews 11:8.

Lesson: Genesis 12:1-20:18.

Devotional reading: Hebrews 11:8-10, 17-19.

Explanations And Comments

The Call and the Promise, 12:1-3. We think of Palestine as the ancestral home of the Jews, but they came there originally from a far country. The very word Hebrew shows this in its derivation from eber, beyond. It seems natural to suppose that the call to leave their home came to both Abraham and his father Terah at Ur (Acts 7:2-4; Gen. 11:31) and was reaffirmed to Abraham at Haran. Terah and Abraham settled there for a time, and there Terah died.

To Abraham at Haran came an unmistakable summons. Jehovah said to him, that is Abraham recognized God's prompting in some inward suggestion or in some outward event.

Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, says the Lord which he received. These are commendable expressions which show the greatness of the demand, and Abraham must count the cost, for he has much to lose. He must leave behind him all that is familiar and dear.

The goal of Abraham's journey, "that land that I will show thee," is the land of Canaan. The promised reward, "I will make of thee a great nation," is a thought which runs through the whole book of Genesis.

The name Abraham (the father of a multitude, Genesis 17:5) is based, according to Professor Kent, on a similarity of sound to the Hebrew word Hamon, meaning multitude. In him all the families of the earth should be blessed. Through the call of Abraham, the choosing of Israel, the later history of the nation, the Jews, and through all God was working to the one end, the blessing of all peoples, the redemption of the world.

Call Obeyed, 12:4-6. Abraham was 75 years old when he left Haran with Sarai his wife. Lot his nephew, and all the dependents and all their flocks and herds, to go into the land of Canaan; and into the land of the Chaldeans. The journey was long and the journey was arduous. The great trek is dismissed in a sentence; nothing is said of the length of the journey, the dangers on the way, the hardships endured; but the essential fact is stated—Abraham has faith in the promise and acted on his faith.

Airplanes Of The Future

Envisioned As Flying Wings Without Tail Or Fuselage

The airplane of the future was seen as a "flying wing," tail-less and without a fuselage.

Such a ship weighing between fifty and 800 tons and capable of a speed of over 200 miles an hour, was described by Lawrence D. Bell, president of an airplane manufacturing firm in Buffalo.

He said, "passengers and express will be shifted forward into the wing, eliminating the fuselage, which is parasitic resistance anyway. The wings will be cut back to form a 'V'."

Future ships will be powered by four engines, he predicted, adding a safety factor which would "make people remember present-day crashes as a page from the dark ages."

He said he believed economy in operation of the big liners would put the dirigible "entirely out of the picture."

Welcomed In Japan

Helen Keller Guest Of Emperor At Imperial Palace Party

Helen Keller, famous blind educationist, received an overwhelming greeting at Yokohama as she set foot for the first time on Oriental soil.

Seven Japanese peers, headed by Prince Iyesato Tokugawa, former president of the House of Peers, and heads of blind institutions and educational and philanthropic organizations were among the notables meeting her. Miss Keller will lecture and introduce a newly-developed "talking book" into Japan, which has vision blind people.

Miss Keller was among Emperor Hirohito's guests at the annual imperial cherry blossom garden party.

Appeals To Queen

Mrs. Alice Barnett, 20, of London, appealed to Queen Elizabeth by letter to send her husband back to Singapore, where he was ordered as a soldier three days after their marriage last year. He is due to re-marry at Singapore until 1942.

"I am perfectly willing to perform this fight in co-operation with a business man," Professor Picard declared, "and in return for the money I want to have a husband to love and make a home for," wrote Mrs. Barnett.

Latest relic from Egypt is a jar of face cream more than 3,000 years old. The gale knew a wrinkle or two even in those days, and wrinkles to end wrinkles, as it were.

Gardening

It is a good plan to use started annuals from seed, secured from any seed store, greenhouse or florist for planting among tulips and other Spring flowering bulbs which will be past their best in a few more weeks. These hide the dying foliage. Then again, quick-growing annuals will always be useful for filling in any blind spots in the perennial beds where Winter has been unusually severe.

It is not too late to order plants of Canada to order and plant perennial flowers and ever shrubs and vines. Often towards the end of the season prices are lower and while the selection is not as wide as earlier, there should be a good selection.

Unless the ground was thoroughly cultivated and then allowed to lie idle the year before the lawn was sown there is bound to be a good deal of weed seed in the soil, and some of this will germinate after the lawn is sown. The weeds should be removed constantly, especially in the earlier stages. A good lawn fertilizer every year will push the grass along sufficiently to choke out most of these offenders. The first cutting in the Spring should be made with a very sharp mower to avoid pulling out plants when the ground is so soft. Frequent rolling is also best at this time.

For permanent lawns of deep green color and fine texture, good quality package seed is advisable. It is advisable, of course, to keep a plentiful supply of salad material like leaf and head lettuce, onions and possibly celery in the kitchen garden. The latter is set out in the garden as well as started plants usually after all danger of frost is over. For Fall storage, planting takes place in June or early July.

Defence Against Air Attack

New Method By Which Britain Is Able To Deal With Hostile Planes

An almost unbelievable story is told of a new method by which Britain is able to deal with hostile planes. Years of effort have perfected a range-finder, it is said, which has such accuracy that it will direct the shot from an anti-aircraft gun using it to its target.

In its still imperfect stages it was used in 1918. Fourteen German raiders made an attack on London, but all 14 fell before this uncanny device. From then on the air-raiders kept from using it to its target. The plane zig-zag ever so much, even at a speed of 400 miles an hour, and yet this device will steer the shell unflinchingly to its target. At manoeuvres, 15 shots were fired at 15 moving objects without a miss.

It is an electrically controlled, and the moment the range is found the shell starts on its deadly errand. It is all like a tale from witchcraft, and there have been so many tales told of marvellous and almost uncanny inventions that it is hard to believe. The most we can hope is that it is true, and if it is true, the peril of the air will be conquered, and flying may yet become what it was destined to be, one of the greatest blessings, instead of one of its potential deadliest curses.—Hullfax Chronicle.

To Chart Sea Floor

San Francisco Girl Searching For Submarine Ridge Near Norway

A straight-shooting San Francisco society heiress, Miss Louise A. Boyd, who already has decorations from three nations for her Arctic exploits, has planned a new expedition.

She will sail from a Norwegian port aboard the sealer Veleklari to chart the sea floor, north of Norway, and determine whether there is a submarine ridge connecting Greenland and Spitzbergen.

Miss Boyd will serve as photographer. On one of her five previous major expeditions, she bagged 12 Helen bears and led a hunting expedition aboard explorer Roald Amundsen's former supply ship, the Hobby, when the Italian dirigible Italia, with Amundsen and a crew of 22 men aboard, crashed in the frozen north. Miss Boyd spent months searching for the victims.

Miss Boyd was the first of her sex to set foot upon desolate Franz Josef Land.

Would Make Another Fight

Professor Picard Is Trying To Get Financial Backing

Professor Auguste Picard, stratosphere pioneer visiting in Denmark, announced he was planning a new fight when he hopes to reach a height of thirty kilometers. He estimated the cost at $50,000, but said he had not yet been able to find financial backing. "I am perfectly willing to perform this fight in co-operation with a business man," Professor Picard declared, "and in return for the money I want to have a husband to love and make a home for," wrote Mrs. Barnett.

Passing of J. E. Gillis

The passing of J. E. Gillis, familiarly known as "Joe" to his friends, well known Blairmore barrister, recalls his activity in various phases of community life, and also in the wider sphere of federal and provincial politics. Never hesitant on taking a stand, he upheld steadfastly the traditions and policies of the Liberal party, having contested Macleod constituency for the federal parliament, and Rocky Mountain for the provincial.

In the last provincial election he was a campaigner for Don MacNeil, speaking at district meetings in his behalf, and in the provincial election of 1930 he supported George Cruickshank, who, as an Independent, was endorsed by the Liberals and Conservatives and won by a majority of double over two opponents.

He was a past exalted ruler of the Elks lodge. Locally he took an active interest in the Boy Scout movement, and was a member of the district council. The Knights of Columbus also was an organization of which he was a valued member.

The large attendance at the funeral on Monday evidenced the esteem in which he was held. Blairmore business was suspended in the morning and school children attended in a body. He was the type of citizen who is a valuable asset in any community, for he gave of his time and knowledge to anything that was for the public welfare. His sudden passing at midnight on Thursday, April 22, after he had spent the evening in his customary manner, was a shock to all. Only two days previously he was in court here as defending counsel for a client, and friends then remarked that he looked particularly fit. The uncertainties of life are brought home to all when death takes one, who, to outward appearances, is in the hey-day of life, and at 56 years of age, his friends looked forward to seeing him enjoy many years of good work in the district to which he came as a young man about 25 years ago, and where he was married. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to Mrs. Gillis and son Donald.

Funeral of Mrs. Jones

Fine weather prevailing on Sunday enabled many to attend the funeral service of Mrs. Elias Jones, held in St. Paul's United church and conducted by Rev. H. J. Bevan. Many members of Coleman Miners' Association marched ahead of the hearse, while friends from Pass towns followed in their cars.

The hymns, at the request of the family, were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "The Sands of Time Are Sinking." Many beautiful wreaths were sent by friends. The pallbearers were: T. Flynn, Allan Brown, Harry Gardner, T. Lloyd, J. Richards and Harold Chamberlain.

At the graveside a Welsh hymn was beautifully sung by the Welsh ladies' choir. Many tributes of sympathy were received by the family.

Mr. Aberhart and the Weeklies

St. Mary's Argus-Journal

The Financial Post which keeps close tab on conditions throughout Canada is deeply impressed by the journalistic courage of the country weeklies of Alberta who have almost unanimously opposed Mr. Aberhart and his Social Credit facilities. They have consistently exposed the Money Messiah's political hypocrisies and combatted his fallacious economic doctrines. The Financial Post points out that at a time when the public has been engulfed in a wave of mass hysteria, those who refused to be swept along with the unthinking masses, may expect to be jeered at, reviled and persecuted. The Post concludes that if one wants to know what the country thinks at heart, what its true common sense viewpoint is, one can usually find it by a perusal of the editorial pages of the country weeklies of Canada.
